

Cliniclean

Disinfectant Hand Lotion

Cliniclean is a member of our Skincare range of products. For employees that work in industries where hygiene is essential, hands need to be kept clean and safe at all times. Cliniclean is a powerful disinfectant hand lotion that is especially effective for use within food and nursing environments.

This comprehensive lotion acts immediately upon application and continues to protect for a further two hours. Its residual properties create a film on the skin without leaving behind any odour. Simple to apply, Cliniclean protects without irritation and the added skin conditioner leaves skin feeling soft.

It is particularly suitable for handling foods and is effectual against yeasts and fungi. Cliniclean has been designed to kill a wide range of gram positive and gram negative organisms including pathogens of importance to the food industry.

- Long lasting protection with residual bactericide
- Conveniently packaged offering full protection in all situations
- Protects without irritation and contains a skin conditioner
